NAZIS ARE ON DEFENSIVE ALONG ENTIRE NORTHERN FRONT OF ARDENNES SALIENT, MONTGOMERY SAYS; YANKS STRIKE WITHIN 4 MILES OF LAST ESCAPE ROUTE

Germans Pull Back in Some Sectors in Face of Onslaught

ENEMY DESPERATE

Seventh Army Re-Enters Rimling; Make Local Advance

By International News Service
PARIS, Jan. 9.—With Yank armor and infantry forces striking to within four miles of the last German escape route out of the shrunken Belgian-Luxembourg bulge, Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery declared today that the Nazis are on the defensive along the entire northern front of the Ardennes salient.

The Germans pulled back in some sectors in the face of the relentless Allied onslaught through blizzard and biting wind but Field Marshal Karl Gerd Von Rundstedt's withdrawal from the Marche area, at the northwestern tip of the salient, is not yet general, field headquarters of Marshal Montgomery said.

With First Army units closing down relentlessly from the north, the Nazis on the southern flank of the salient reacted violently to fresh onslaughts by the United States Third Army in an apparent effort to keep open the escape way to the east as long as possible.

The Germans west of Bastogne unleashed a fierce infantry counter-attack around Bonneville, and re-occupied the town of Tillet, just to the east of Bonneville.

A headquarters spokesman said that bitter fighting still raged in the area of Bonneville, six miles east of St. Hubert with the town changing hands twice in recent days.

In a desperate attempt to take Millemont, the Germans employed 48 tanks, losing nine which were knocked out. At last reports fighting still raged around Millemont.

The United States Seventh Army, moving back against the Germans in the Saar region, re-entered the town of Rimling and in a local advance eight miles east of Sarreguemines gained a half mile west of the Maginot bastion city of Botche.

Penitentiary Chaplain Dies; Stricken Suddenly

The Rev. Alfred J. Kimker, D. D., for seven years an associate chaplain at the Eastern State Penitentiary in Philadelphia, and a former pastor of Doylestown Methodist Church—in 1945—died suddenly Friday in his office at the prison.

The minister, who also served as a chaplain at the Graterford branch of the penitentiary, was stricken with a heart attack shortly before 10 a. m., and died at 11:45 a. m., according to aides of Warden Herbert Smith.

Dr. Kimker left the Doylestown pastorate in 1916 and was succeeded by the Rev. W. C. Eschenshade. From Doylestown, he went to Yardley.

Dr. Kimker, who lived at the Y. M. C. A., on Arch street, went to the Fairmount avenue institution from Graterford, Friday, to help Rev. Dr. Linn Bowman, pastor of Spring Garden Street Methodist Church, another chaplain, in performance of spiritual duties among the 900 inmates.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

SAVING THE SOIL

One of the most forward-looking reconversion projects so far announced does not concern industry, as might have been expected. Instead it has to do with the soil. In Georgia 700 business men have joined in an enterprise which promises great things for that state.

Coming from 100 different communities, each has contributed $1,000 to a fund to be used in restoring impoverished soil. Farms now considered worthless will be purchased, and through changes in cropping, terracing and fertilization restored to productivity.

There has been much discussion and in some states considerable action in regard to restoration of depleted soils. In the South continual cropping of cotton comes in for a share of the blame for present conditions. Erosion is equally responsible, a condition which is widespread throughout the nation. Wherever steps to combat erosion have been intelligently conceived and managed, results have been good.

Those engaged in the Georgia project are acting from an entirely unselfish motive. They do not hope to profit from larger crops. The farms will be turned over to new owners, with the result that the agricultural wealth of the state will be greatly increased and the entire economic situation improved.

GLASS CLOTHES

Many people will not believe it until they see it, but garments made of spun glass are forecast, and the advantages of glass clothes are being described in glowing terms.

The forecast comes from London, with the assertion that after 14 years of experiment glass cloth is ready for post-war exploitation. It is said that the new fabric can be made in scores of shades and can be made reasonably cheap, non-inflammable, moth-proof, mildew-proof, rot-proof and sun-proof.

It is asserted that it can be patterned, cut with scissors and stitched on the household sewing machine. The London Express declares that it can be spun and woven on the machines now in use in the Lancashire mills and, blended with cotton, silk or linen yarns, can be made to produce scintillating effects and unusual designs.

Also it is claimed for it that unlike cotton and other materials it cannot acquire more than surface dirt because it is non-cellular. All this sounds decidedly imaginative and a majority of persons before accepting the story will wait to see duds that are closely akin to window panes.

Safety experts say the most dangerous traffic hour is 5 p. m. But it is possible to effect the complete disintegration of the old jalepy at other hours.

Thousands of Japanese citizens removed from California in 1942 refuse to return, and chambers of commerce in Florida are expected to make the most of the fact.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

Tax Evaders and Hoarding

to contemplate.

CERTAINLY, there are no concrete ideas of how to control it and no definite notion of the consequences of not controlling it. This is an indictment of the Treasury on the ground of inexcusable ignorance. The truth seems to be that nobody knows. In fact, it is pretty generally agreed that, in or out of the Treasury, there is no clear understanding of what the immense increase means and how it is to be accounted for. All anyone seems definitely sure about is that in April of last year the total amount of money in circulation was a little more than $21,000,000,000, or $154.65 for every man, woman and child in the country. Since April, according to the latest available figures—December 15—the total was $25,142,000,000, or $182.21 for every individual. In brief, the increase has been more than $4,000,000,000 in eight months—and it is growing every week.

IN THE whole of history there has never been such an increase in money. No previous increase even compares with it. No one so far has adequately explained it. Mr. Ralph Robey, one of the most eminent authorities in the country, asserts that so far as the general expansion is concerned there is almost unanimous agreement among students of finance on the reasons. First, the increase in factory pay rolls, which are more than double those of 1939; second, the great growth in military pay rolls; third, the 33 per cent rise in prices since the war began; fourth, much more idle cash in the pockets of workers; fifth, the many shortages which create a demand for more cash with which to shop and particularly with which to trade in the black market; sixth, individuals and businesses which have gone on a "cash" basis in order to hide income and evade taxes; seventh, hoarding.

THERE WILL be slight dissent from this statement of causes for the expansion of the currency; but, as Mr. Robey points out, quite clearly they do not explain the enormous increase of four billion in the last eight months. Because, the first four reasons were all operating last April and there has been no jump since then in factory pay rolls, not much in military pay rolls, only a slight rise in prices and no great increase in "pocket cash." How then can the four billion in eight months be accounted for? There seems to be one answer—hoarding, tax evasion and black market. If there is any other explanation it has not been advanced.

THIS IS not a pleasant theory, but it has to be accepted—and it is accepted by those here whose business it is to "hold the line" against inflation, concerning which there is more justified apprehension now than at any time since the war began. Partly, this is due to the manner in which the Administration has yielded to CIO political pressure for more money for steel workers and, partly, to the utter failure to evolve a firm, comprehensive and nonpolitical tax program. As of today, according to the United States News, there are some 44,000,000 more $50 and $100 bills in circulation or in hiding, which is 100 per cent more than a year ago. There also has been a great increase in the number of $500 and $1,000 bills.

NOR is there any end to the expansion. Month by month the money continues to roll out. It is a situation without precedent and not without danger. It is causing concern to practically every official whose job touches the fiscal facts and who is capable of understanding them—which does not include all of them by a long shot. Nevertheless, many are convinced that those three factors—tax evasion, hoarding and black markets—are the real explanation and that they have reached menacing proportions. Ways of discouraging all three are being studied and there is a prospect that Congress will act along these lines—particularly on finer to catch the tax evasion practitioners.

THERE IS, in fact, a very strong determination to prove to these that they are not nearly as clever as they think—that, in reality, they are exceedingly stupid and have laid themselves open to pretty heavy penalties, to say nothing of extremely unpleasant publicity. One thing which is pointed out is that no tax evader who has been hiding income by the "cash" system can feel safe from investigation and prosecution for six years. That is under the present law. But, it is declared, Congress will be asked—and assuredly will respond—to extend still further this time limit. Also, there are other ways by which the cash hoarders and the tax evaders can be exposed and punished. At the moment the intention is to use them all.

GIVE HIM A TASTE OF POST-HOLIDAY CHEER

Presents at Christmas time are fun to give and to receive, and what's more they add excitement to the occasion. But presents are still nicer, at least as we see it, when they're sent for no special reason—"just-for-instance" presents. To the fellow in the Service, such little gifts mean that you're not only thinking of him on special occasions, but on the ordinary days, too! So when the last of the Christmas presents are opened up and your soldier or sailor is anticipating a post-holiday slump, pack up a box of delicious homemade cookies—and watch the reception it gets!

Here's just the cookie to put in that box—Cereal Peanut Butter Cookies. They're easy to make, and the kind of cookie that travels well.

Peanut Butter Cookies

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup peanut butter
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup dark corn syrup
- 1 egg
- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 4 cups oven popped rice cereal

Blend shortening, peanut butter and sugar thoroughly; add corn syrup. Add egg; beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients and oven-popped rice cereal, which has been crushed into fine crumbs; mix thoroughly. Form into 1-inch balls. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Flatten with fork dipped in flour to make a criss-cross pattern. Bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) 8 to 10 minutes.

Yield: 3 1/2 dozen cookies (2 1/2 inches in diameter).

LAWMAKERS TO GET LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

Bulk of Governor's Program Will Be Presented Before Feb. 1st

MONEY-RAISING BILLS

By John Paget

L. N. S. Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—(INS)—The bulk of the administration's legislative program will be before lawmakers within two weeks after the General Assembly returns to the State Capitol January 15 to start studying Gov. Edward Martin's budget for the 1945-47 biennium, a spokesman for the chief executive disclosed today.

He indicated there would be no delay in presenting the Governor's proposed revenue-raising bills aimed at collecting more than $369,000,000 during the next biennium starting June 1.

Other administration-supported legislation will be sponsored as soon as final drafts are completed, he said, but hinted that action on Governor Martin's proposed liberalization of workmen's compensation and occupational disease laws must await the agreements reached when leaders of the Republican-controlled legislature meet with representatives of the Democratic minority. GOP chieftains were scheduled to confer with the Governor this week and outline plans for the bi-partisan conference.

Democrats were expected to agitate for tax reductions especially elimination of one or more of the so-called emergency taxes imposed in years ago on liquor, cigarettes, corporate net incomes and gross receipts. The collections go into the general fund.

Minority leaders have not indicated any opposition so far to the Governor's proposed earmarking of the cent-a-gallon tax on liquid fuels for the motor license fund for subsequent allocations to municipalities for road and bridge maintenance.

House minority leader Hiram G. Andrews, of Cambria, has called for a conference to enable leaders of both parties to agree on non-partisan legislation and thus speed the work of the assembly.

Governor Martin's post war proposals, financed by a $170,958,000 anticipated surplus in state funds

Coming Events

- Jan. 14—Public installation of officers, Shepherds Delight Lodge, No. 1, in Odd Fellows Hall, Walnut and Radcliffe Sts. 8 p. m.
- Jan. 18—Card party in Christ Church parish house, Edgington, 8.30 p. m., sponsored by St. Martha's Guild.

when the current biennium ends, appeared to be for rough handling by minority members. The expected surplus included $60,223.00 in the motor fund.

Democratic financial advisors have disclosed plans for attacking the expected general fund surplus of $110,735,990 on the grounds that approximately $33,000,000 was carried over from the 1941-43 biennium in alleged defiance of a constitutional provision making it mandatory for budget officials to place excesses in the sinking fund for the retirement of state debts.

Governor Martin's proposal to use $48,870,000 of the general fund surplus to retire outstanding bonds of the non-operating General State Authority was not expected to meet with much opposition.

THE CAPITOL WHIRL

A Digest of Things Political Occurring At Harrisburg

By International News Service

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9.—Rep. Hiram G. Andrews, minority leader, has been in conference with Democrats relative to strategy during the 1945 session. . . . Andrews, a veteran legislator, apparently feels his leadership will be under heavy fire from the Republicans when major legislation is up for consideration and so has deputized several colleagues to help carry the load. . . . Andrews plans to have his lieutenants each specialize in a certain subject and be ready to battle the majority when the GOP steamroller gets underway. . . . High on Andrews' list is Rep. J. Harold Levy, of Philadelphia, who paved the way for the ouster of Rep. Reuben Cohen, Philadelphia, from the minority leader's post.

Some Republican leaders visiting the State Capitol believe Gov. Edward Martin is making a political mistake by emphasizing the anticipated $170,000,000 surplus of state funds when State employees constantly complain they are underpaid. . . . Republican fortunes, they claim, are at a low ebb following the New Deal victory in November and the GOP stands a good chance of losing the gubernatorial election in November 1946 if something concrete isn't done for the little taxpayer and low-salaried workers instead of approving tax reductions for business.

A spot check of senators and representatives following Governor Martin's address at the opening session of the Legislature disclosed they held no hopes of enacting a senatorial and legislative reapportionment program as the chief executive recommended. . . . Even if the GOP had a sizeable majority it would be difficult to push a reshuffling plan through both houses because individuals cast aside party tags and band together into regional factions. . . . The last reapportionment was accomplished in 1921. . . . The constitution provides for redistricting after each decennial census but does not fix a penalty for failure to do so. . . . If the reapportionment was accomplished, the boundaries of the 50 senatorial districts would be rearranged but the membership not increased while the House roll would be boosted from 208 to at least 210 and the majority of lines reshuffled.

life of the Pennsylvania grade oil fields," it was stated.

STORM OF LIFE

The storms of life May cast you On some cold And barren shoal. Cut and bleeding, You lie dying; Yet it cannot Kill the soul.

You may feel The earth receding, From your tired And aching feet. Still the soul of man Strives onward, It can never Know defeat.

There's a courage Born within us, Not derived From earthly power. For the more this life Assails you, It grows mightier In power.

OKLAHOMA PIONEER

Only in America could a city arise from wild prairie in an afternoon, yet that is what happened September 16, 1893, in Oklahoma. That morning 6 million acres of Cherokee Outlet were raw, uninhabited land; at noon the United States opened it to white settlers and 3,000 camped where Ponca City stands now. Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Arthur D. Sargis
Pastor
Eddington Presbyterian Church
Eddington, Pa.

"Our Father, Who art in the heavens" we come to Thee this day to be blessed of Thee, Jesus taught us that You are the God of our little sky; the God of the sky of the planets as well as the God of the departed redeemed. Thou art the God of everyone and the Author of everything this is good. To the creatures Thou art the Creator and to us, Thy children, Thou art a Father. May we, this day, address Thee and come to Thee as normally and as naturally as we do when we approach our parents, because of Jesus Christ we can do this and we do it in His holy and precious Name. Amen.

TELLS SPORTSMEN COUNTY DEER HERD IS OVERPOPULATED

As Deer Herd Increases The Small Game Will Probably Decrease

SESSION AT CO. SEAT

Rabbit Trapping Program
Meeting With Much
Success

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 8.—Bucks County's deer herd is becoming overpopulated, according to County Game Protector Earl Carpenter.

This opinion was expressed by the Game Protector here last evening when he spoke to delegates of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs at the Monument Restaurant.

Carpenter pointed out that Bucks County is primarily a small game county and that as the deer herd increases, small game will probably decrease, since deer browse in their winter feeding and eat much cover and food of great importance to small game.

The delegates learned that the rabbit trapping program, sponsored by the Game Commission, is meeting with much success in this county by those clubs and individuals who are trapping. Carpenter said rabbits seemed to be plentiful and he urged clubs not already interested in the program to get started immediately.

Allan L. Woolf, Morrisville, was re-elected chairman of the Federation, and John Fetterolf, Buckingham, was named vice-chairman. Abram Mitman, Sellersville, was re-elected to the post of treasurer, and Edward Balderston was named the secretary.

Delegates learned that the dog law enforcement officer who was serving both Bucks and Montgomery counties is no longer working in that capacity. As a result, the Federation is planning an immediate appeal to the Department of Agriculture for the appointment of a Dog Law Enforcement Officer for Bucks County.

The Federation also unanimously adopted a resolution last evening approving the consolidation of the Fish and Game Commissions, and said the moneys of these two Commissions should remain separate and continue to be specifically earmarked for the use of the sportsmen of the Commonwealth.

Pays Tribute To Coach And Bristol High Five

By Keith Rosser
Publicity Chairman, B. H. S.
A. A. B. C.

Members of Bristol high school booster committee who were privileged to attend the dinners tendered to the high school football team by Charles I. Bowen and by Bristol Exchange Club were highly impressed by the ability and philosophy of the present coach, Harold Stackhouse. To a very great extent, the interest which he aroused was largely instrumental in the formation of the committee.

In his talks on these two occasions, Coach Stackhouse demonstrated the actual influence which high school athletics can play in character formation among the youth of the community. The committee feels that our school board is to be congratulated on its wisdom in securing a man who is so well versed in the role which athletics can play in developing proper thinking and good sportsmanship among the future residents of the town.

It is their belief that such an activity deserves the support of all citizens who are interested in the present and future welfare of our town. To quote Mr. Bowen, the head of the committee: "We hope that everyone who is interested in the boys in the town will buy a season basketball ticket to show Coach Stackhouse and the boys that we are backing them up."

duty with the army in order to return to the pastorate of the Springtown Lutheran parish, from which he has been on leave of absence since his entry for duty with the Army on July 7, 1941.

The parish, composed of the Lutheran congregations at Springtown, Pleasant Valley and Durham, has been without the service of a regular pastor since the death of Rev. Dr. U. E. Apple on Feb. 28, 1940. Dr. Apple came out of retirement as a clergyman to act as supply pastor in Rev. Bieber's absence.

Beginning service as a captain in July, 1941, the Rev. Mr. Bieber was assigned to duty as an administrative officer with the Air Corps at Langley Field, Va., as personal adjutant of a bombardment group. Dec. 8, 1941, he moved with his unit to California, from which place this group went on submarine patrol during the Jap submarine scare in December, 1941. One of the squadrons of this group destroyed a Jap submarine during this period.

Councilman Winter also introduced a resolution fixing the salaries and wages of borough employees the same for the period of January 15, 1945, to January 15, 1946, as they were on January 1, 1944.

Upon the motion of Richard T. Myers, chairman of health and sanitation committee, E. Linton Martin, was re-appointed a member of the Board of Health for five years, dating from January 1, 1945.

Councilman Thomas Clark asked if the parking ban on Pond street had been removed. He said that four persons had asked him the question as there was parking on both sides of the street, regardless of the fact that parking is prohibited. He was advised that parking is still prohibited and Roy Fry, chairman of police committee, was asked to see that the law is enforced.

Annual report of tax collector, Louis B. Girton, was received and filed.

Request for permission to hang a sign in front of 366 Lafayette was referred to street and highway committee with power to act.

A communication was read from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania asking for the complete treatment and sterilization of the sanitary wastes of the borough. This is in harmony with the action of the State in clearing up the Schuylkill and Delaware rivers and freeing them from pollution. The communication was referred to Health and Sanitation committee.

Presiding Chairman Rathke informed the councilmen that Evan Vandegrift, representing the third ward, had been ill for nearly two months. Inquiry was made as to his progress in recovering and Councilman Myers informed that Mr. Vandegrift is still ill but is improving.

Councilmen absent were President Wagner and Councilmen Vandegrift, Mitchener, Conklin and Mulligan.

SCORED 109 RUNS IN '44

Stephens Was Also Runner-
Up In Home Runs,
Scoring 20

By John Cashman
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(INS)—The American League was a complete bust in runs batted in, according to official figures released by the loop.

Vern Stephens, the tough youngster who paced the St. Louis Browns to their first flag, captured the runs-batted-in championship of the circuit with 109 but at the same time set a league low in this department that has not been seen since official tabulations became part of the works in major league history in 1920.

However, Stephens should not be shunted away from the honors due him. Vern not only slugged in the most runs, but took runner-up honors in home runs with 20, losing out to first baseman Nick Etten of the New York Yankees by two circuit clouts. The Brownie slugger, generally acclaimed as the most valuable man on the squad, edged out Bob Johnson of the Boston Red Sox in runs batted in. Bob drove in three less than Stephens.

Two other players in the league drove in 100 runs or more—Johnny Lindell of the Yankees, with 103, and hard-hitting Stan Spence of the Washington Senators, with an even 100. Rudy York of the Detroit Tigers, who led last year with 118, hammered in 98 in the past campaign to gain fourth place. In 1943, only two players, York and Etten, drove in 100 or more runs.

Etten was priceless to the Yankees in an oblique sort of way. Nick drew the most bases on balls, 97, two more than Johnson of the White Sox, who is always a best man but never a groom. In 1943, Charley (King Kong) Keller, squat Yankee outfielder, led with 106 passes.

Jim Seerey of the Cleveland Indians captured a magnificent title—he led the league in strikeouts, with 99. George (Snuffy) Starnweiss of the Yanks, who led in fielding among the loop's second basemen, was runner up for Seerey's none-too-coveted championship, with 87 futile trips to the plate. How would you like to walk back to a major league dugout 99 times after striking out?

many things more important than papers to be shipped over here. When I last received your paper I took it that the people back home were doing a splendid job in war production. I wonder if that is still the case? I'd like to believe that it is. I hate to think that some of the boys on the continent are dying just because people at home are letting them down.

The reason there is doubt in my mind is the result of a talk with a First Sergeant from our outfit. He was chosen as the most valuable enlisted man in this division as the result of his fighting in France. He was sent home along with a group of combat men to talk with factory workers who were quitting their jobs and obtaining post-war ones. According to his reports the population has the mistaken idea that the war is over except for a little policing up. They are afraid if they don't get a post-war job now they may get caught. How can people figure that? Surely they don't have what war is like, or they even think of quitting now.

I hope this is not the Bristol. I'm quite sure couldn't be. Too many people received telegrams from Germany giving them very come news. This surely is served as an incentive harder rather than to lie one soldier is killed because a civilian got tired of work that he (the civilian) is criminal than a murderer the folks back home how these fellows fight complete disregard for their life. A back to England, reorgan on Sept. 17th we went to I've seen quite a lot of and I think I can go on saying that none of us let the folks back home do hope they don't let us down. Sincerely,

CPL. ALDRIDGE E.

Report of borough treasurer, Miss Grace H. Illick, showed a balance
at the first of January of $657.88.
Sinking fund balance, exclusive of $3500 in war bonds, was given at $1228.24.

Councilmen also discussed the
need for raising of the tax millage.
The tax rate is extremely low, it
was stated, 7½ mills, it being lowered several years ago. With increased expenses, and with necessity for building up a fund for certain proposed improvements, it
was the consensus of opinion that
the tax rate should be raised. The matter was tabled until the February session.

Bills ordered paid include: Phil-

vance Publishing Co., printing,
$4.50; Langhorne Water Co., $6;
Bell Telephone Co., $66; Ferd.
Reetz, collection of rubbish, $12;
Leon R. Comly, repairs to town hall, $29.15. Total $114, leaving a balance in the treasury of $543.88.

MEN SHOPPERS

The extent to which men have taken over the burden of doing
the family shopping in this country as a result of the war is quite startling. Managers of several large grocery store chains in New York City are quoted as saying that 25 per cent more men are now doing the family marketing.
They have taken over the job because their wives are busy in war
production or other outside work.

One store manager concluded
that men generally know better
what they want and buy more quickly, that they often come in
with a list, sometimes a list separated carefully into different categories, and if they cannot get what they want they take the next best thing, even if it is more expensive, because they consider their time more valuable than
the money saved by shopping
around.

A criticism by wives of marketing done by men is that they are inclined to buy with too little consideration of the family budget, that they fall for things that appeal to their tastes, such as fine
cheeses or delicatessen products,
forgetting that a pair of shoes for little Johnny has still to come out of the family allowance.

The disturbing note in results
of the survey is the possibility that men are not so stupid in their shopping as their critics think they are. Many men who have sat down at table to food considered standard when one eye is focused on the budget may have wished for years for some of the dishes that they now can buy
when they go shopping for the family. Permitting a man to do the shopping is like letting an animal out of a pasture to forage
in a vegetable garden. He is bound to fill long-felt wants and also do some experimenting.

RAMPANT WEATHER

Little, if any, editorial mention
has been made of the sort of weather the country has been having since the official advent of winter, probably because of more widespread interest in weather conditions on the Franco-German border and in Belgium and Luxembourg, but the calendar did not err this time when it ushered in the winter season.

The northern half of the nation, the borderline states and, on occasion, many of the southern states, all have been subjected to more severe and sustained winter weather than has been the case in any recent year. There has hardly been a day in weeks when the temperature did not drop below
—often far below—zero at many points in the Northwest and elsewhere.

The protracted period of low temperatures is proving a strain
on fuel stocks of all kinds. Coal continues scarce even in coal mining towns and fuel oil users are cutting deeply into their rations.
Unless the weather man provides relief in the form of more moderate temperatures, real suffering
may ensue before spring.

A book by Stalin has sold 15,

Mortgage Is Burned At Croydon Church

the ground on which the church
was built in honor of his late father, William Wilkinson, held the mortgage papers. The match was then applied by the Rev. George C.
Lurwick, pastor of Pocono Lake Methodist Church, but under whose pastorate the mortgage was paid in full.

The present pastor of the church,
the Rev. P. Paul Freeman, was toastmaster at the banquet which occurred before the mortgage was destroyed. He presented some former pastors as follows: the Rev.
Charles Yrigoyen, Langhorne; the Rev. Howard W. Oursler, Philadelphia; and the Rev. Mr. Lurwick.

The honor guests also included
the president of the board of trustees of Cornwells Methodist Church, Charles Hanson. A letter was read which was received from the Rev. John W. Bartram, a former pastor, who is now in charge
of the Roman Methodist Church,
Roman, Mont.

The cornerstone of Wilkinson
Church was laid under the pastori-ship of the late Rev. George C.
Shoe, who was the first pastor here.
He was followed by the Rev. Howard W. Oursler, who left after a short period having been given a leave of absence by the congregation
to go with Rev. Donald Grey Barnhouse on his trip to the Far East mission fields. Rev. Charles Yrigoyen then began his ministry at this church, followed by the Rev.
John W. Bartram, who was transferred from the Phila. Conference to the Western Conference in Montana. Rev. Bartram was followed by the Rev. George C. Lurwick and in turn by the present pastor, P.
Paul Freeman.

Those in attendance at the banquet and mortgage burning were from the neighboring churches in Cornwells, Edgington and Croydon.
Ralph Hedrick led the singing.

Party.

A decision will be reached on whether the Governor should join in the bi-partisan discussions, if they are held, or leave it to the legislative leaders of both parties to work out a non-controversial pro-

The Democratic minority in the House won their right for greater representation on standing committees, although a plea for equal division of the membership was rejected.

In view of the close division in the lower chamber, 105 Republicans to 99 Democrats, the G. O. P. controlled committee on committees
made a "gentlemen's agreement"
with the minority to give them two more members on major committees
and one more representative on committees of minor importance.

A G. O. P. BONUS FOR TAXPAYERS

mediate retiring of millions of dollars worth of General State Authority bonds which otherwise would continue to be a drain upon the revenues of the state for almost another generation.

The size of these projects may be shown by remembering that they are comparable with the original General
State Authority program and with the Turnpike.

Unlike such earlier and New Deal types of improvement-financing, which were based on borrowings and therefore called not only for heavy future repayment
costs but also a costly special staff to "manage" the projects and their financing, the plans outlined by Governor Martin can be administered through existing State agencies and will present no more financial problem than the writing out of a check against existing funds.

Republican economy and financial prudence have given the taxpayers of this Commonwealth a most substantial Christmas bonus this year—despite tax reductions
already made in both General and Motor Funds.

The bonus is the gift to the men and women of the state of a prepaid postwar program of improvements running over $60,000,000.

There could hardly be a better evidence of the fact that thrift and commonsense in government are not mere abstractions, but are matters bearing directly on every pocketbook in the land.

The State Police in Doylestown
was notified and found that Eric-son had dropped dead on the floor of a second-floor bedroom. Deputy Coroner Dr. Raymond Tice, of Quakertown, issued a certificate of death, which he said was caused by a heart attack.

Ericson was a member of the Church of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, Doylestown. He is believed to have a daughter and a son living somewhere in Canada. An effort is being made to contact them.

An action for divorce was filed

Tech. Sgt. Patterson Is Wed in St. Petersburg

Word has been received here of the marriage of Miss Charlotte L.
Cox, daughter of Mrs. William Cox,
St. Petersburg, Fla., and Port Huron, Mich., to Tech. Sgt. James
R. Patterson, Jr., USAAF, at St.
Petersburg on December 22nd. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs.
James R. Patterson, Croydon.

The ceremony took place in St.
Peter's P. E. Church, in the Florida
city, with Chaplain Evan A. Edwards officiating.

Mrs. James D. Henderson, and Staff Sgt. Carol J. Stratton, St.
Petersburg, served as matron of honor and best man. The bride was given in marriage by her mother.

Following the ceremony members of the bridal party were entertained
at breakfast at the Princess Martha Hotel, St. Petersburg. The newlyweds spent their honeymoon at Florida coast resorts. Sgt. Patterson is located at the Don Ce-Sar

Hospital in St. Petersburg. He is a graduate of Bensalem Township
high school. The young man recently returned from 14 months
overseas service he having participated in the African and Italian campaigns. He has 350 combat flying hours to his credit, he being a radio operator-gunner on a B-17.
Sgt. Patterson is the holder of the Silver Star, Distinguished Flying
Cross and Air Medal with nine oak leaves; the Purple Heart and the Presidential citation.

The bride is a graduate of Port Huron high school.

Fete Bride at A Social Affair at Pope Residence

Mrs. John Guntar, the former Miss Margaret Neill, Beaver street, was the guest of honor at a party given by Mrs. Harry Pope and Miss Hilda M. Pope, and held at their home, 622 Beaver street, last evening.

The affair was a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Guntar and she was completely surprised. The decorations were in pink and white. The evening was spent in a social way and refreshments were served. The invitation list included: Mrs. Paul Barrett, Mrs. Charles Sampson, Mrs. Marion Reinke, Mrs. Leonard Bassett, Mrs. A. Davis, Mrs. Edward F. Kupiec, Mrs. Francis Leferts, Mrs. George Duffy, Mrs. Raymond Jackson, Mrs. J. R. Burd, Mrs. David Neill, Mrs. William Bartholomew, the Misses Irene Pauls, Gladys Hewitt, Winifred Tracy, Elva Cruse, Ellen Smith, Margaret Nicholas, Bristol; Miss Marion E. Peck, Hallowville; Mrs. Horace W. Royer, Milford, Conn.

Today's Quiet Moment

By Rev. Arthur D. Sargis
Pastor
Eddington Presbyterian Church
Eddington, Pa.

"Hallowed be Thy name," O God, because Thou art holy. In our conduct this day may we not forget Thy nature and our purpose in life. We are here, according to Thy Son, to hallow the Name of our heavenly Father. This cannot be done in sin, but must be done apart from sin. May we not take that Name in vain by any unworthy thought, word or deed. In remembering Thy holy nature may we strive, Christ, for holy living. We pray this in the Name that is above every name even the Name of our Lord. Amen.

OF COURSE YOU LIKE TO BE GAY! EVERY DAY, ALL MONTH

Unless you have some underlying organic condition that requires consultation with your doctor there may be no need of your suffering from "monthly grumps." Thousands of girls and women have found blessed relief from periodic functional pains, cramps, headaches and nervousness in Chi-Ches-Ters Pills. Taken as directed, preferably two or three days before your time, they tend to relax the muscular contraction that often causes the distress. They contain no narcotics, no habit-forming drugs. But Chi-Ches-Ters Pills do have an insistent, steady help to promote resistance and energy. So, ask your druggist for Chi-Ches-Ters Pills, and accept no substitute. Caution: Use only as directed.

MURPHY CHOSEN PRESIDENT, LOCAL SPORTSMEN GROUP

Fish and Game Prizes Are Awarded and Movies Shown

FISH WARDEN IS GUEST

Expect High Flow of Water in the Canal Next Season

Election of officers for the current year, awarding of fish and game prizes and the showing of several good reels of sound sports movies highlighted the January meeting of the Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association at the Odd Fellows' Hall last evening.

Frank B. Murphy, 342 Hayes St., was named president, succeeding Howard Asay. John C. Johnson, now a member of the armed forces, was re-elected to the post of vice-president. Johnson, who is now serving overseas, was vice-president when he enlisted.

Don Moyer and Joseph Elbertson were re-elected to the posts of treasurer and secretary. One hundred and nineteen members and guests were on hand for the meeting.

Among the guests present was State Fish Warden Harry Cole who told members that extensive repairs made to the canal side gates at Bowman's Hill and Morrisville should insure a higher level of water and a more consistent flow next year, thus aiding fish life and fishing conditions. He told the group that the 1944 stocking of fish in Bucks County was the largest in the history of the Fish Commission. A total of 65,000 fish were planted in Bucks County last year.

William Bossler, Game Committee chairman, reported that the Game Commission is sending rabbit traps in the next few days and that his committee plans an extensive rabbit trapping program.

Nunzio Rubino was awarded the twenty dollar cash prize for killing the most foxes in this area in 1944. He had a total of eight. Harry Zobel was awarded the five dollar cash prize for returning the first band from the marked pheasants purchased and released by the Association last fall. Howard Asay and Francis Cummons each received a box of shotgun shells for turning in bands.

Oliver Hobbs, Fish Committee chairman, awarded the fish prizes for the 1944 fishing contest conducted for members. Francis Cummons won the bass prize of ten dollars with his three pound, 14 ounce large mouth bass entry. Harry Ratcliffe, Jr., was declared the winner of the non-game fish division when his two-pound, six-ounce catfish entry won the prize of five dollars.

Joseph Smith won the pickerel division with his fourteen-inch entry and first prize of five dollars. Honors for the trout division went to Peter Sabatini who won the five dollar prize with his 12 1/2 inch rainbow trout entry.

affiliation. Naturally the names of persons dull of hearing, persons who cannot read or write, or invalids should not be sent in the list. A blank is enclosed with the letter on which should be listed the name, occupation and address of each man. In the case of women the name, occupation, address, marital status, husband's name and occupation is requested. If the Jury Commissioners received complete lists from every district this method would furnish the names of over 4,000 persons suitable for jury duty. In addition to these lists the Judges secure lists from various other sources throughout the county.

"Despite this large number of names it is surprising how difficult it is to fill the quota for each election district. When a person has served during one year he is not required to serve the succeeding year. The names of husband and wife are not put in at the same time. If the names of two persons residing in the same dwelling are sent in with the lists only one is used in case they might turn out to be father and son, two sisters or two brothers and so on. Old age is given consideration, both on account of hearing and inability to travel to and from court. Every name must be checked to see that the person is a registered voter. This necessitates a careful check with the registration books. These are regularly kept in the Administration Building and are brought to the court room by prisoners under guard.

"The names are called in turn—first the judges select a name, then each of the jury commissioners select one. These are copied on lists, which are made in triplicate, for a permanent record. Understand, the names as called are given by each member of the commission without regard to party affiliation. Both commissioners take an oath to select the names without regard to political preference, prejudice or personal grievance.

"When the entire list of 1500 names has been completed, the names are transcribed to slips of paper so they can be individually sealed. Next the envelopes are folded and placed in envelopes and placed in the wheel and it is locked and sealed and now is in readiness for the drawing of the first jury.

"Upon the order of court the clerk delivers a writ to the sheriff in which he is instructed to draw a given number of names for jury duty. At the present time he draws 96 names for service the first week of court and the same number for the second week. Before the drawing commences the jury commissioners must be present and see that the wheel is still sealed and has not been tampered with since the last drawing. The actual drawing of names is done by the sheriff. When he removes the slips of paper, upon which the names are written, from the envelopes he hands them to the jury commissioners and a list is made in the order in which drawn. As you can readily see the names are drawn entirely by chance. When jurors are needed for Grand Jury an extra twenty-four names are drawn. These are always selected before starting the names for Traverse Jury.

"After the required number of names has been drawn the wheel is locked and sealed with wax seals. The jury commissioners and the sheriff write their names on the tape and each has a seal with his initials. Then the wheel is put away, under lock and key, until another jury is needed."

Due to uncertain winter weather and to illness, the members decided to postpone the next meeting until March. After a social hour, the meeting adjourned.

SMUGGLING NIPPED

LONDON—(INS)—Air smuggling between Paris and London is to be nipped in the bud, following the discovery of 1,000 bottles of champagne stacked in waste land near Chelmsford. Worth $20,000, the champagne was loaded at an airfield in France, unloaded at an East Anglia airfield and brought to Chelmsford by truck.

BRESLIN'S GOALS BRING VICTORY TO ST. FRANCIS TEAM

Eddington Boys Defeat Bordertown in The Final Quarter

FINAL SCORE IS 23 TO 19

New Jersey Team Rallies in Third Quarter and Ties The Score

EDDINGTON, Jan. 10—Field goals by "Jake" Breslin in the final quarter of the game gave the St. Francis Vocational School a well-earned 23-19 triumph over the Bordertown Manual Training School yesterday afternoon on the St. Francis floor.

The Jersey team had rallied in the third quarter to outscore the St. Francis boys, 8-2, and deadlock the count at 17-17. In the last 10 minutes, St. Francis scored three field goals while holding the visitors to two points.

Burgess, of the Jerseyites, brought the crowd to its feet several times during the game with one-handed side shots while going away from the basket. He led his team in scoring with eight points.

Breslin scored nine tallies for St. Francis and was aided by the fine passing and floor-work of Oppold.

It marked St. Francis' second game of the season, they having lost a close game to National Farm School, of Doylestown, on Saturday.

HULMEVILLE

Pvt. Joseph M. Marcinek, who has been overseas for the past 20 months, is spending a 21-day furlough with his parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Marek. Pvt. Marcinek saw much action in Africa and Italy. He will go to Atlantic City, N. J., for two weeks' rest before being re-assigned.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phipps were: Mr. and Mrs. James Turner, of Edgely; and Mr. and Mrs. William Brady and son "Billy," of Bristol.

A meeting of school mothers of school children is called by the Hulmeville school cafeteria committee for two o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the school house. Matters of interest will be discussed. More volunteer assistants are needed, it is announced.

BRIDGEWATER

Several young people from Eddington Presbyterian Church gave a surprise party in honor of Miss Hazel Lamon at her home on Jan. 1st. Games were played and refreshments served to: Helen Cassile, George Tibbitts, Marjorie Orcutt, Etta Vansant, "Betty" Thompson, Owen McGarrity, Alverda McGarrity, Lorraine Robtoy, Delores Runyan, and "Jack" Scott.

Leslie Wallace, U. S. Navy, spent a few days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace, Swain street.

Raymond G. Coon, and son Harold, of Cleveland, O., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Coon.

Here's one reason the Navy's radios stay "tuned for action"

Keeping a radio tapping away on the far-flung Pacific battle line is no cinch. But our own George W. Reed is one of the boys who has what it takes.

While with P.E., George was a lineman. It didn't take the Navy long to discover his talent and put it to good use. As radio technician, first class, George has been in the thick of many a fight in the southwest Pacific and also has come successfully through a bout with tropical illness. But he's back on duty now helping push the battle line closer to Japan's shores.

In a changing world, here is a fact that seems to us important—close to 16% of Philadelphia Electric's active employees have been with the company twenty-five years or more. Hundreds more have served P.E. for ten, fifteen, twenty years. Despite wars, depressions, and all the uncertainties of the twenties and thirties, P.E. has been able to go right on serving you with experienced and skilled people. This loyalty of employees for company, and company for employees, is one of the bulwarks of our postwar planning.

Germans Pull Back in Some Sectors in Face of Onslaught

Seventh Army Re-Enters Rimling; Make Local Advance

By International News Service
PARIS, Jan. 9.—With Yank armor and infantry forces striking to within four miles of the last German escape route out of the shrunken Belgian-Luxembourg bulge, Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery declared today that the Nazis are on the defensive along the entire northern front of the Ardennes salient.

The Germans pulled back in some sectors in the face of the relentless Allied onslaught through blizzard and biting wind but Field Marshal Karl Gerd Von Rundstedt's withdrawal from the Marche area, at the northwestern tip of the salient, is not yet general, field headquarters of Marshal Montgomery said.

With First Army units closing down relentlessly from the north, the Nazis on the southern flank of the salient reacted violently to fresh onslaughts by the United States Third Army in an apparent effort to keep open the escape way to the east as long as possible.

The Germans west of Bastogne unleashed a fierce infantry counter-attack around Bonnerue and re-occupied the town of Tillet, just to the east of Bonnerue.

A headquarters spokesman said that bitter fighting still raged in the area of Bonnerue, six miles east of St. Hubert with the town changing hands twice in recent days.

In a desperate attempt to take Millemont, the Germans employed 18 tanks, losing nine which were knocked out. At last reports fighting still raged around Millemont.

The United States Seventh Army, moving back against the Germans in the Saar region, re-entered the town of Rimling and in a local advance eight miles east of Sarreguemines gained a half mile west of the Maginot bastion city of Botche.

Penitentiary Chaplain Dies; Stricken Suddenly

The Rev. Alfred J. Kimker, D. D., for seven years an associate chaplain at the Eastern State Penitentiary in Philadelphia and a former pastor of Doylestown Methodist Church—in 1916—died suddenly Friday in his office at the prison.

The minister, who also served as a chaplain at the Graterford branch of the penitentiary, was stricken with a heart attack shortly before 10 a. m., and died at 11:45 a. m., according to aides of Warden Herbert Smith.

Dr. Kimker left the Doylestown pastorate in 1916 and was succeeded by the Rev. W. C. Eshenshade. From Doylestown, he went to Yardley.

UP-TO-PRESS-TIME WAR BULLETINS

NEW RAIDS MADE ON JAPANESE BASES

Pearl Harbor—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced today that carrier based aircraft of the Pacific Fleet followed up last week's pounding of Japanese aircraft staging bases between the enemy homeland and the Philippines with new raids yesterday.

Enemy aircraft installations and shipping were hit in and around the islands of Formosa, Ishigaki and Miyako Jima in the Sakishima group and Okinawa in the Ryukyus according to Nimitz's communique. Details of the latest operation are not yet available, the communique said.

Formosa was hit just previous to the American landings on Leyte Island and in strikes made from Monday to Wednesday last week. If the Jap radio is correct in claiming American landings on Luzon, these latest attacks presumably by Admiral William F. Halsey's Third Fleet, were believed designed to neutralize enemy bases and protect the reported landings. However no word of the Luzon operation has been mentioned by Pacific Fleet headquarters.

The strikes against Formosa last week resulted in 111 enemy aircraft destroyed and 220 damaged with 25 Jap ships sunk and 58 damaged, indicating both the Japanese strength in this area and the determination of American leaders to destroy whatever the enemy may send in to these bases.

Pvt. James Shive, Hilltown and North Wales, was killed in Germany on December 12th, according to word received by his sister, Ethel, who lives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Stout, Perkasie.

Shive worked on a farm in Hilltown township for some time, then for the last two years before his induction, he worked at a foundry in the Lansdale section, and boarded in North Wales.

He was serving in the infantry.

John Richard Johnson, E. M. 2/c, 32, husband of Mrs. Geraldine (nee Kinker) Johnson, Quakertown R. D. 3, was one of the 48 persons killed in the train wreck at Ogden, Utah, last week.

A son of Mrs. Bertha Johnson (nee Conklin), Baltimore, Md., and the late Richard Johnson, the young man was returning to the West coast after having spent the holidays with his wife and son near Quakertown when the accident took place. The body of the victim is being sent East.

Johnson had been attached to the Pacific Fleet for nine months before he returned to his home for the holiday leave.

Born in Baltimore, Md., Johnson is survived by his widow, a son, his mother, a sister, Mrs. Ada Throckmorton, Richmond, Va., and a brother, Raymond L. Johnson, who resides in New Jersey.

Lieut. Col. Edmund E. Bieber has obtained a release from active duty.

Will Figure All Wages In Social Security Benefits

In the last month, many people over 65 years of age have asked for an investigation of the amount of their monthly insurance payments under the Social Security Act. Harry W. Pease, manager of the Social Security field office at 3207 Kensington avenue, Philadelphia, feels that many others in this area would request similar action if they knew of the Board's recent ruling.

The people of Pennsylvania are supporting their government in this war. Sons, daughters, fathers, and mothers are in the armed services or working on the home front. Many fathers well past 65 have gone back to work for the duration, to do their part for their country. They are getting a thrill out of being needed again.

Many of these fathers had retired and were receiving monthly insurance payments from the Social Security Board when the War started. They are earning higher wages than ever before. The Social Security Board, on request, will now take these wages into account in figuring their benefits when they stop working. For many people this will mean higher monthly insurance payments than they were receiving before.

Mr. Pease urges all those over 65, who went back to work, to come in and find out how their own payments are affected by this ruling.

Mr. Perrin, Philadelphia, is a patient in Harriman Hospital, he being under observation.

News in Brief:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—President Roosevelt today announced that he would approve legislation to give insurance companies a "moratorium" in which to adjust themselves to the conditions created by a Supreme Court decision last year that the insurance business is engaged in interstate commerce and hence subject to Federal regulation. The decision upset 75 years of legal precedents.

SCRANTON, Jan. 9.—A 13-year-old high school honor pupil confessed the sex murder of 9-year-old Mae Barrett, whose battered and mutilated body was found in the cellar of a vacant house in Vandling, 25 miles north of here, last Wednesday.

Lackawanna County District Attorney James F. Brady named the confessed slayer as Myron Semunich, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Metro Semunich, of 675 Main street, Vandling.

AN EAST COAST PORT, Jan. 9.—A Nazi buzz-bomb attack on the Atlantic coast is probable within the next two months, Admiral Jonas H. Ingram, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet, said today.

Admiral Ingram, who said he came here aboard his flagship to take steps to cope with such an attack, succinctly declared at a press conference:

"It is possible and probable that the Germans will attempt to launch bombs against New York or Washington within the next 30 to 60 days."

But, he said, "there is no reason for anyone to become alarmed. . . effective steps have been taken to meet this threat, when, as and if it becomes a reality."

In Washington, however, the Navy indicated it was not in complete accord with Admiral Ingram's statement. The Navy said:

"There is no more reason now to believe that Germany will attack with robot bombs than there was on Nov. 7, 1944," when a joint Army-Navy statement was issued. That statement said the War and Navy Departments considered such attacks "entirely possible" but it did not extend the idea to that of probability.

ANNUAL MESSAGE OF BURGESS SCHMIDT

The President and Members of Borough Council, Bristol, Pennsylvania: Gentlemen:

It is a great pleasure for me to send you this New Year's message as you have all given outstanding service to our Borough and, I think, deserve the appreciation of the citizens of Bristol.

The Street and Highway Committee has given us better streets today than we have ever had.

The Police Force, in spite of a shortage of men, has kept crime at a minimum. The Fire Company, also very short of men, has kept our fire damage very low.

The Sanitation Committee has kept the sewerage plant operating at all times, all rubbish and garbage collected under a serious handicap.

The Municipal Water Committee has done a splendid job with the able assistance of our Borough Engineer, John S. Roberts. They have not only helped our Borough Taxes but have also given a large part of Bristol spring water. With the valuable gift of the Edgely Property from the Honorable Joseph R. Grundy the Committee will be enabled to give all of Bristol pure spring water in the very near future.

The Finance and Public Property Committee, with the financial assistance of the Water Department, has been able to pay all Borough financial obligations without raising the taxes in spite of the increase in wages and the high cost of materials.

I extend to each Officer and Member of Borough Council my very Best Wishes for the New Year. I sincerely hope the year 1945 will bring us a Victorious end to the War on all fronts and that our loved ones will all be returned safely.

Respectfully submitted,
JACOB C. SCHMIDT,
Burgess

CONSCIENCE - STRICKEN THIEF RETURNS $8 TO VICTIM; SENDS MONEY WITH NOTE TO PARISH PRIEST TO RETURN TO THE OWNER

Conscience stricken, the thief who on Sunday morning took $8.00 from the handbag of a worshipper in St. Ann's Church, returned the money last evening, to the priest of that church. The money was returned by messenger who left before his identity could be established.

The doorbell of the rectory of St. Ann's Church rang at about 7:15 last evening and an assistant rector of the church answered the summons. A small boy handed him an envelope directed in this manner: "To the head Priest of this parish." The address was scrawled in pencil and the envelope sealed.

Upon the arrival of the Rev. Father Peter Pinci, the priest in charge, the envelope was delivered to him and opened. Inside was the $8 and the following note:

"Dear Reverend: Jan. 8, 1945
"Here is the money that I stole yesterday. My conscience has been bothering me ever since.

"I hope you and the woman will forgive me. I do not know who this woman is but I hope you do, and return the money to her.
"I am very sorry for what happened. Hope that you both will forgive me.
"I will never do it again. I promise."

The note was also written in pencil on plain white paper and in poor handwriting.

Father Pinci at once called Mrs. Dolores Sionne, Jefferson avenue, from whom the money had been taken, and advised her of its return.

Mrs. Sionne, whose husband is in the armed service, was an attendant at the eight o'clock mass in St. Ann's Church on Sunday morning. While she was engaged in her devotions a man was seen to be acting in a suspicious manner as he sat next to her. At the conclusion of the mass Mrs. Sionne found her handbag, which had been lying in the pew beside her, opened, and eight dollars missing. She at once advised the Rev. Pinci, who went in pursuit of a strange man he had spoken to, as the stranger left the church. Rev. Pinci commanded in automobile and went as far as Tadelife street, where a bus was stopped and searched, but without result.

DISCUSS HIGHWAYS' HAZARDOUS CONDITION

Hulmeville Borough Councilmen Report Minimum of Cindering

N. MOYER TAKES OATH

HULMEVILLE, Jan. 9.—The hazardous condition of state highway routes in the borough due to lack of cindering when icy, and the need for increased taxation were subjects discussed at the meeting of Hulmeville borough council last evening. One new councilman was sworn into that borough body.

The session was presided over by Norman Davis. Burgess Leon R. Comly administered the oath of office to Ned Moyer, who was named in the fall as a member of the councilman body. Other councilmen present were: Reginald Webb, George Bilger, Fred Bunting, A. E. A. Bronson, and Samuel J. Illick. The records were in charge of Frank Forker.

In discussing condition of hills, curves and intersections in the borough and adjacent sections, the highway committee reported there was a minimum of cindering on one local hill during the week-end storm. Accidents and near-accidents due to many cars skidding were cited, and the secretary was instructed to contact proper state officials to guard against such conditions in the future.

Highway committee members also reported that a barrier recently placed at the sharp curve on Beaver street had been struck by a car, and two of the heavy posts ripped out. The committee is to arrange to have this replaced.

Mr. Moyer was named a member of the sidewalk, light, and health and poor committees.

In discussing tentative plans for improvement of the plot at the intersection of Bellevue avenue and Neshaminy street which will be

Warrington Club Women Meet at Emerson Home

NESHAMINY, Jan. 9.—Mrs. George Tettemer, chairman of the literature committee, and Mrs. Francis Green, chairman of the radio and motion pictures committee, had charge of the program at the meeting of the Warrington Women's Club at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Emerson, Friday.

Among the guests at the meeting, which was in charge of the president, Mrs. Norman S. Cornell, were Mrs. William Reigel, Mrs. Steven Kunstl and Miss Polly DuBois.

Representing the literature committee, Mrs. Tettemer gave a review of the book, "Until You Eat Stone," by Russell Byrnes. Mrs. G. Frank Shutt, of the educational committee, read a paper on William "Tenn" and how he became a Friend.

Mrs. Shutt also spoke briefly about places of interest in Bucks county.

The next meeting of the club will be held on February 2, at the home of Mrs. Marshall W. Thompson, where the fine arts committee, of which Mrs. G. Sherman Perry is the chairman, will have charge of the program.

BOYS FROM SECTION ENTER THE SERVICE

Group Inducted Today Includes Member of B. H. S. Football Squad

GIFTS DISTRIBUTED

Among the young men leaving here for induction into the armed forces today was an outstanding member of the Bristol high school football squad, Joseph C. Parelli, aged 18.

At the railroad station shortly after eight o'clock to bid Parelli farewell were a number of his friends from Bristol high school.

One of the inductees, Gerald Cecil Walterick, Edgely, is the fourth of the Walterick brothers to enter the service. The other three are in the navy.

As the train was about to pull out of the station, "The Star-Spangled Banner" was played on the "Proty record player, and the engineer obligingly waited a few minutes until the national anthem was nearly ended.

Gifts were distributed by members of the "36 for Victory," and prayer was offered by the Rev. Gehman Straus, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church.

Those inducted: George Edward Bowman, Creek Road, Newportville, 30, welder.

Theodore R. Smith, RFD 1, Bristol, Pa., 34, lithographic-pressman.

Paul Elmer White, 2016 Trenton avenue, 30, carpenter, 1st class.

Almerindo Sozio, 415 Washington street, 25, aircraft mechanic.

William Henry Ireland, 21 N. West 15th St., Richmond, Indiana, 25, aircraft inspector.

Thomas Edward Phillips, 4440 Paul St., Philadelphia, 31, press operator (gasket mfg.).

Gotfried Christian Lampe, RFD 2, Bristol, 25, truck driver.

Herbert Walter Hyde, 2739 N. Matter St., Philadelphia, 24, set-up man—aircraft.

BOROUGH BUDGET CARRIES THE SAME TAX RATE AS IN '44

Council Hears Budget Read and Orders It Placed on View for Public

ANNUAL REPORTS

Burgess Schmidt Submits Message Reviewing 1944 Accomplishments

Meeting in the first session of the new year borough council, last night, received the annual message of Burgess Jacob C. Schmidt, Sr., heard read for the first time the proposed budget for 1945, listened to the annual reports of the various borough departments, and transacted routine business.

The budget was ordered placed on exhibition in the office of the borough secretary for a period of 15 days, where it may be viewed by those who so desire.

The message of Burgess Schmidt reviewed briefly the accomplishments of the various borough departments during the past year and expressed appreciation for the co-operation of the officials of the borough. The message was read to council by secretary, William J. Lefferts.

In calling council into session Secretary Lefferts advised that Dr. J. Fred Wagner, the president, would be unable to attend the meeting. Charles G. Rathke was chosen a preside.

The monthly report of the police department showed that 10 arrests had been made during December and the cases disposed of in the following manner: Discharged, one; fined, two; held for court, six; continued, one. Two were fined for "all night" parking, three dogs were found unlicensed, 58 lodgers sheltered, three incandescent and two are lights were reported out, radio car responded to 93 alarms and the police car traveled 3,463 miles.

The annual reports of the Bureau of Police and Bureau of Fire were both read and ordered filed.

Council voted to dispense with the publication of the Borough Year Book for the duration of the war.

Councilman Roche inquired if any reply had been received from the State concerning the resolution of borough council requesting that a portion of the canal be filled in. The secretary advised that an acknowledgment of the receipt of the resolution had been received.

No action was taken upon a proposed curfew law.

Councilman Winter, chairman of finance committee, presented the 1945 budget, carrying the same tax rate of $1.10 per $100 of assessed valuation as prevailed last year. The budget will be acted upon at the February meeting.

It was explained by Councilman Spring that the item of $54,000 bond issue in the proposed budget was to cover various items of capital investment such as acquiring property for artesian wells for a water supply, extension of water mains, which has been done from time to time, in the past. When the bonds are issued Mr. Spring said that it would mean that probably one-half mill increase in the tax rate would be necessary in 1946 to take care of the retirement of the bonds and

As Deer Herd Increases The
Small Game Will Prob-
ably Decrease

SESSION AT CO. SEAT Rabbit Trapping Program Meeting With Much Success

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 8.—Bucks county's deer herd is becoming overpopulated, according to County
Game Protector Earl Carpenter.

This opinion was expressed by the Game Protector here last evening when he spoke to delegates of the Bucks County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs at the Monument Restaurant.

Carpenter pointed out that Bucks
county is primarily a small game
county and that as the deer herd increases, small game will probably decrease, since deer browse in their winter feeding and eat much cover
and food of great importance to small game.

The delegates learned that the rabbit trapping program, sponsored by the Game Commission, is meeting with much success in this county by those clubs and individuals who are trapping. Carpenter said rabbits seemed to be plentiful and he urged clubs not already interested in the program to get started immediately.

Allan L. Woolf, Morrisville, was re-elected chairman of the Federation, and John Petteroff, Buckingham, was named vice-chairman.
Abram Mitman, Sellersville, was re-elected to the post of treasurer, and Edward Baderston was named the secretary.

Delegates learned that the dog
law enforcement officer who was serving both Bucks and Montgomery counties is no longer working in that capacity. As a result, the Federation is planning an immediate appeal to the Department of Agriculture for the appointment of a Dog Law Enforcement Officer for Bucks County.

The Federation also unanimously adopted a resolution last evening
opposing the consolidation of the Fish and Game Commissions, and said the moneys of these two Commissions should remain separate and continue to be specifically earmarked for the use of the sportsmen of the Commonwealth.

Pays Tribute To Coach And Bristol High Five

By Keith Rosser
Publicity Chairman, B. H. S.
A. A. B. C.

Members of Bristol high school booster committee who were privileged to attend the dinner tendered to the high school football team by Charles L. Bowen and by Bristol Exchange Club were highly impressed by the ability and philosophy of the present coach, Harold Stackhouse. To a very great extent, the interest which he aroused was largely instrumental in the formation of the committee.

In his talks on these two occasions, Coach Stackhouse demonstrated the actual influence which high school athletics can play in character formation among the youth of the community. The committee feels that our school board
is to be congratulated on its wisdom in securing a man who is so well versed in the role which athletics can play in developing proper thinking and good sportsmanship among the future residents of the town.

It is their belief that such an activity deserves the support of all citizens who are interested in the present and future welfare of our town. To quote Mr. Bowen, the head of the committee: "We hope that everyone who is interested in the boys in the town will buy a season basketball ticket to show
Coach Stackhouse and the boys that we are backing them up."

AMERICAN LEAGUE IS COMPLETE BUST IN RUNS BATTED IN

Vern Stephens Paced St.
Louis Browns To Their First Flag

SCORED 109 RUNS IN '44
Stephens Was Also Runner-
Up In Home Runs,
Scoring 20

By John Cashman
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (INS).—
The American League was a complete bust in runs batted in, according to official figures released
by the league.

Vern Stephens, the tough youngster who paced the St. Louis Browns to their first flag, captured
the runs-batted-in championship
of the circuit with 109 but at the same time set a league low in this department that has not been seen since official tabulations became part of the works in major league history in 1920.

However, Stephens should not be shunted away from the honors due him. Vern not only slugged in the most runs, but took runner-up honors in home runs with 20, losing out to first baseman Nick Etten of the New York Yankees by two circuit clouts. The Brownie slugger, generally acclaimed as the most valuable man on the squad, edged out
Bob Johnson of the Boston Red Sox
in runs batted in. Bob drove in three less than Stephens.

Two other players in the league
drove in 100 runs or more—Johnny Lindell of the Yankees, with 103,
and hard-hitting Stan Spence of the Washington Senators, with an even
100. Rudy York of the Detroit Tigers, who led last year with 115,
hammered in 98 in the past campaign to gain fourth place. In 1943, only two players, York and Etten, drove in 100 or more runs.

Etten was priceless to the Yankees in an oblique sort of way.
Nick drew the most bases on balls,
97, two more than Johnson of the White Sox, who is always a best man but never a groom. In 1943,
Charley (King Kong) Keller, squat
Yankee outfielder, led with 106
passes.

Jim Seery of the Cleveland Indians captured a magnificent title
—he led the league in strikeouts,
with 99. George (Snuffy) Stirn-weis of the Yanks, who led in fielding among the loop's second basemen, was runner up for Seery's none-too-coveted championship, with 87 futile trips to the plate. How would you like to walk back to a major league dugout 99
times after striking out?

Concerned With The War Effort Support

because I know that there are now they may get caught short.

How can people figure this way?
Surely they don't have any idea
what war is like, or they wouldn't even think of quitting now.

I hope this is not the case in Bristol. I'm quite sure that it couldn't be. Too many people have received telegrams from the government giving them very unwell-come news. This surely must have served as an incentive to work harder rather than to lie down. If one soldier is killed because one civilian got tired of working I feel that he (the civilian) is a worse criminal than a murderer. If only the folks back home could see
how these fellows fight with complete disregard for their own lives
I'm certain there never would be a slump in any industry. I've seen these fellows do things that are nearly unbelievable. I went to France with them. Incidentally we were the first outfit in France, hours before H-hour. We came back to England, reorganized and on Sept. 17th we went to Holland.
I've seen quite a lot of this war
and I think I can go on record as saying that none of us will ever let the folks back home down. Let's hope they don't let us down.

Sincerely,
CPL. ALDRIDGE EVERITT

Canteen To Be Housed In Beaver St. School Building

canteen committee feels, can be quickly and capably attended to by the teen-agers themselves, who also will possibly be asked to aid in some painting.

The structure has two large rooms on the main floor, each measuring approximately 30x35 feet.
One of these will be used for dancing and the other as a lounge.
It is the intention of the committee at present to place the snack bar in the dance room, where the present cloak room can be used for snack bar supply storage.

The local bus passes the door,
making the site accessible in stormy weather, and also providing transportation after canteen hours
for any who do not wish to walk.
Bristol police have promised the committee all co-operation possible.

Dr. J. Fred Wagner, chairman of property committee, lists among the properties needed for the canteen: 10 card tables, single folding chairs, lounge chairs, two sofas, table and floor lamps, occasional tables, magazine racks, two ping pong tables, piano, show case and counter.

Another definite need is an automatic record changer with amplifier
and microphone. This is a necessity and the committee is most anxious to procure one.

Individuals who can donate any of these items are asked to telephone Dr. Wagner, Bristol 2112.

The building is equipped with a heating system, and the coal is to be supplied by the canteen group.

used as a memorial park. Mr. Bronson offered to contribute the necessary work for placing a cable to provide a light at the proposed honor roll.

Report of borough treasurer, Miss Grace H. Hlick, showed a balance
at the first of January of $657.88.
Sinking fund balance, exclusive of $3500 in war bonds, was given at $1228.24.

Councilmen also discussed the
need for raising of the tax millage.
The tax rate is extremely low, it
was stated, 7 1/2 mills, it being lowered several years ago. With increased expenses, and with necessity for building up a fund for certain proposed improvements, it
was the consensus of opinion that
the tax rate should be raised. The
matter was tabled until the February session.

Bills ordered paid include: Philadelphia Electric Co., $62.29; Advance Publishing Co., printing,
$1.50; Langhorne Water Co., $5;
Bell Telephone Co., $96; Ferd.
Reetz, collection of rubbish, $12;
Leon R. Conly, repairs to town
hall, $29.15. Total $114, leaving a balance in the treasury of $543.88.

Bucks County Bond Sales, 5 1/2 Millions

250,000 and the sales in the county
up until the end of the week, had reached $5,436,000, with more to be added.

"I want to take this opportunity to tell all the folks who had anything to do with the bond sales in the Sixth War Loan and others,
that I greatly appreciate the efforts
that have been made to put Bucks county in the position it should rightly hold," County Chairman
Bloesinger said.

The county chairman spoke particularly of the fine service rendered by Daniel H. Erdman, Quaker-town banker, who did a splendid job in organizing the banks. All those who worked with the Bucks county school systems agree that the children were largely responsible for Bucks county's over-subscription of the E bond quota.

"Until the time our armed forces
achieve final victory, I have pledged our continued effort in this type of work," County Chairman Bloesinger said.
